COVINA, CALIFORNIA, APRIL 13, 1928

NEW SCOFIELD STORE LAUNCHED

NEW REGIME FOR COVINA CITY COUNCIL

KENDALL, LAYCOOK AND MAXFIELD CHOSEN BY VOTERS FOR FOUR YEARS

For council—

	North of Badillo	South of Badillo	Total
Forsythe	218	259	477
Webb	229	260	489
Hoogendyk	219	255	474
Laycock	192	333	525
Kendall	192	334	526
Maxfield	185	335	520

For clerk—John C. Hutchinson, unopposed.
For treasurer—M. Leonhardt, unopposed.

J. Frank Kendall, fire chief of the city of Covina; Joe Laycock, rancher; and George H. Maxfield, teacher in the South Pasadena schools, were the winners on Monday for seats on the city council. They defeated Charles B. Forsythe, rancher and official in the Builders' Crushed Rock & Gravel company; William Hoogendyk, packinghouse manager; and Carroll D. Webb, rancher.

Webb and Laycock were candidates for reelection. Webb was high man among the defeated candidates, and Kendall was high man among the three elected. Kendall had a majority of thirty-seven votes over Webb. The city, therefore, seemed nearly evenly divided between the two tickets, with the successful ticket profiting by a more animated campaign than was made for the unsuccessful trio.

The elected candidates have all served on the board. They will serve with J. N. Wilson, who has been president of the board, and with Malcolm J. McCarthy, both being holdover members elected two years ago for a term of four years. The newly-elected men are to serve four years.

Kendall's campaign was made following a police episode, in which he was arrested by local police officers on a traffic charge. Kendall, Laycock and Maxfield are declared to be of the same mind as to making a change in the personnel of the police department. The people were given to understand that if these three were elected a sweeping change would be made in the police force. The newly-elected men take office Tuesday night, when they will be sworn in, but will not function for business until the succeeding meeting, or at any special meeting which they may call, it was declared by city officials.

Among the matters of business to be disposed of during the coming year is that of buying a new fire truck, to cost $15,000 to $18,000, and the locating and construction of a new well for domestic supply.

MISS WATTS ELECTED
Miss Millie Watts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Watts, was chosen as treasurer for the city of West Covina at the Monday election, defeating Miss Lucile Gleege by a small margin. This friendly contest was the only one where the voters had a choice, as the two councilman candidates, S. L. Watts and B. F. Maxson, were unopposed. The board now consists of these two and A. Yarnell, E. F. Gleege and George King, with C. D. Wolfinger as city clerk.

Public School Week Begins on Monday, April 23

Monday, April 23rd, public-spirited organizations in the Covina valley will join in celebrating public school week, when as many as possible of the citizens of the valley will be inducted to visit and see the schools in action, according to a statement issued this week by William Hoogendyk, local chairman.

From Monday until Friday of that week there will be sessions of the schools held in the evenings. The Covina grammar school will invite citizens to see the school in action on Monday evening. The next evening is devoted to the high school; Wednesday evening, the Charter Oak school; Thursday evening the Lark Ellen school; Friday evening, all the schools will gather at the Covina high school, including West Covina. Parent-Teacher associations are co-operating.

Active Demand Continues for Ranch Property

There has been continued activity in the sale of ranch property this year, both in citrus groves and walnuts.

D. J. Pitzer has purchased ten acres of the Barry orange grove, located on the south side of Arroyo Drive, at Glendora boulevard. This ranch joins the Pitzer walnut grove on the north and is a part of the original Fitzgerald & Barry extensive holdings, which amounted to nearly one hundred acres some twenty or more years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. William James have sold their ranch on Juanita avenue to Mr. and Mrs. A. Boman of Canada, who have been spending the winter in Long Beach. Mr. and Mrs. James will live in Monterey Park, where they have property, and Mr. and Mrs. Boman and daughter will live on the ranch.

John A. Edmundson has sold his walnut ranch to Frank L. Marcellus of Long Beach, taking a small exchange in the way of a residence in Long Beach.

Henry S. Phillips has purchased the Broadway walnut grove on Lark Ellen, near Cameron, turning in some city property on West Center street.

Another recent purchase is that of the Fred Chamberlain citrus grove in the West Covina district by T. E. Foster.

Phone Directory Display Shown at Drug Store

Paul C. Freeman, salesmanager for the Tel-Ad Publishing company, publishers of the local telephone directory, has just received a number of telephone directories from the larger cities of the United States.

For the interest of this community Mr. Freeman will display these directories for several days in the windows of Frost's drug store and Nash's drug store on Citrus avenue. The directories received are from New York City, Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, Omaha, Denver, Salt Lake City, Portland, Seattle, Butte, El Paso, Pocatello, Oakland, Spokane, San Francisco. There is also included a Chinese directory, made by the San Francisco office.

The comparisons of sizes of these directories shows what constitutes the publishing of any telephone directory. Each directory has included its classification section, giving a complete buyers' guide, which has become an asset to every office and home.

Mr. Freeman states that if anyone in the community is desirous of going through the offices of the directory department or wishes to see how the local directory is handled and printed, he will be glad to extend this courtesy. The local directory is being prepared for press with this issue, showing a remarkable increase in this territory.

Throngs Attend City and Valley Easter Services

Easter observances in Covina started with the break of day, with the tuning in, through the public speaker at the city park and in scores of homes, on the Hollywood Bowl services. A group of young people from the Baptist church conducted a caravan to the hills of Ganesha park, where a sunrise prayer service was held, followed by breakfast in the park.

Another group from the Endeavor societies joined the district Endeavorers on the hill north of Glendora for a song and praise service. Two hundred young people from El Monte, Monrovia and surrounding towns were assembled there. Breakfast was served by the Christian church of Glendora.

At 8 o'clock the auditorium of the Christian church was well filled for the hour of prayer. Adjournment was made at 7:50 to the bungalow for coffee and breakfast cakes, with Sunday school following at 9:30.

The Methodist church was crowded at its morning and evening services. Twenty-two were taken into church membership in the morning. The cantata, "The Seven Last Words of Christ," which was given by the high school glee clubs at the school auditorium the week previous, was repeated for the evening service.

Rev. Livingston of South Pasadena occupied the pulpit at the Presbyterian church at the 11 o'clock service. An excellent musical program was given, directed by Mrs. Phoebe Ara White.

Rev. M. L. Kain delivered a masterly address at the morning service in the Church of the Holy Trinity on "They Have Taken Away My Lord." Special musical numbers, directed by J. D. Coles, were "The Hallelujah Chorus" and a selection from Mendelssohn's "Hymn of Praise." Solos were given by Mrs. Henry Marshall and Miss Phyllis Brunjes of Glendora. Eyer's communion service was given.

Giant Aviator Beacon Ready at Montebello

What is declared to be the world's largest aviation beacon, the Standard Oil company's ten million candle power light in Merced hills, near Montebello, will be turned on for the first time at sunset Sunday night. "You know the old story of the moth and the flame," said Clarence Milling, local agent for the Standard Oil company in Covina. "All the aviation bugs in the country will be there." Among those who will be in the party from Covina will be Dean Fessler, Vern Johnson, W. H. Day, T. J. Hoogendyk, Earl Colver, Clark Chapman, and other members of the Covina Aerial club.

Col. Lindbergh, who is in Los Angeles at present, is scheduled to participate in the ceremony. At the same time a similar beacon will be put into operation at Mt. Diablo, near Stockton.

WALNUT MEN AT PUENTE ELECT BOARD

ANNUAL MEETING REVIEWS SUCCESSFUL YEAR, WITH GOOD SEASON AHEAD

Reviewing a year that brought the largest crop returns in the history of the industry in the valley, La Puente Walnut Growers' association held its annual meeting Tuesday at the big plant at Puente, and elected officers for the coming year.

The old board was re-elected, including S. L. Watts, president; J. E. Van Wig, vice-president; B. F. Maxson, manager; C. D. Wolfinger, secretary; A. H. Gray, J. W. Larmer, J. F. Mullendor, J. C. Pearson and B. F. Rowland. The First National Bank of Puente was named as treasurer, and Mr. Watts was made assistant temporary manager.

As has been the custom in past years, the association entertained 350 of its stockholders at a barbecue luncheon in the great receiving and processing building, where 49,091 tons of walnuts of the Puente and West Covina district were this year prepared for market, bringing back to the valley $1,500,000. This was the largest crop ever handled in the history of this big organization, fully justifying the preparations that have been made by the pioneers in the industry to care for the increase through the years.

A talk on marketing and kindred subjects was given by "Artistic Thorpe," general manager of the California Walnut Growers' association. He intimated that the walnut growing business was facing another successful year, and that, although it was somewhat early to make any estimate, the indications were that the crop would exceed that of the previous year in tonnage, governed always by weather conditions. Throughout the district a good crop is setting, it was stated.

Covina Plays 13 Inning Tie Game With Franklin

Covina high school's baseball team featured in a spectacular contest on Wednesday afternoon at Franklin high school, when a thirteen-inning game was called at 6:40 on account of darkness, the score then being 3 to 3.

Chamberlain, pitching for Covina, was opposed by Machuca, star of the Los Angeles city league. Chamberlain had the best of the argument, getting 19 strikeouts to Machuca's 15, and allowing but 5 hits to the latter's 8.

There were no runs made by either side in the first frame, but in the second Franklin made a score on a home run hit. Another home run was made in the third inning, due to a Covina error. In succeeding innings Covina evened the score, both runs being made on squeeze plays. In the seventh inning Covina failed on a squeeze play that would have won the game. One more run was afterwards made by each team and the tie could not be broken before the game was called.

A return game will be played with Franklin on the home grounds on Tuesday, the 17th, and this no doubt will arouse a lot of interest.

This (Friday) afternoon Covina meets Pomona at Pomona. This also should be a good game as Pomona is the leading team in the Citrus Belt league.

FORMER RAILROAD MAN DIES AT HOME IN COVINA

The death of Nelson MacFarland occurred at his home on Orange street on Monday. Memorial services were held at Custer & Christiansen's chapel at 2:30 Wednesday, conducted by Rev. George Steed of the Methodist church. The Masonic lodge conducted the ritual of the order at Oakdale cemetery, deceased having been a member at Chicago.

Mr. MacFarland was born in Northumberland, New Hampshire, on September 26, 1852. He came to Covina five years ago, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Flora, following a nervous breakdown sustained after fifty-one years of continuous railroad service. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Ellen MacFarland, and three children, Flora, residing in Covina, and Raymond MacFarland and Mrs. H. J. Pronger of Chicago, who arrived in Covina several days ago.

Citizens' Training Camp to Open in Ninth Corps Area

The Covina chamber of commerce is interested in recruiting at least four young men from the Covina valley who will attend the citizens' training camps this summer in the ninth corps area.

The camps will be in session during the school vacation period. At Del Monte, the camp will hold training from July first to thirtieth; Fort Winfield Scott, June 22-July 30; Fort MacArthur, July 1 to July 30. In what is known as the "red" course, the ages acceptable are from 17 to 25; the "white" course, 18 to 28 years; the "blue" course, nineteen to 31. I. Worth Everett of the chamber of commerce committee is prepared to furnish further information.

Brandons Open New Barber and Beauty Parlor

Branton's barber and beauty shop, 137 North Citrus avenue, opens next Monday morning with a complete change in equipment and conditions, according to an announcement yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Branton, who have operated this shop for many years, and who are known throughout the Covina valley.

The Brandons own the building they occupy, and during the last six weeks have caused it to be thoroughly remodeled. The upper floor, reached by a short flight of stairs, has been made over with new art plaster and decorations, and three booths have been constructed for use of women customers. What is known as the Realistic permanent wave machines have been installed, and other equipment used in connection with the care of women's hair. Two regular barber chairs for men have been installed on the same floor, to be presided over as usual by Henry Branton and Charles Cooke, his assistant. Special appointments will be a part of the business, Mr. Branton said, and hair cutting for men and women will be a distinct specialty. Special attention also is to be given to children.

The upper floor has been made light and airy with the introduction of large plate glass windows and skylights. The room is very attractive, and has the added feature of privacy from the street.

The lower floor, where the Brandons have had their barber shop in the past, has been rented to Frank Tillman, who is making arrangements to put in a modern haberdashery store for men.

COVINA SERVICE CLUBS EXPRESS APPRECIATION TO FURNITURE HOUSE

Rotary Club Luncheon Held on Mezzanine of Building Remodeled for Covina Merchant, and "Aunt Matilda" Entertains

Assembled for the purpose of expressing good will and good-will for the Scofield Furniture company, the proprietor of which, Miles B. Scofield, is a member of their organization, the Covina Rotary club held its regular weekly luncheon yesterday noon on the mezzanine floor of the Scofield store, with one of the largest attendances in many months gathered around the tables. On the main floor, at the same time, were members of the Covina Woman's club, and a large gathering of the people of the city and valley, present to wish success to this concern which has just moved into its new home in the Buller building at 126 North Citrus avenue.

The Scofield Furniture company, which has for five years been a part of the business life of the city at another location, was celebrating the removal to the building that had been specially remodeled for the purpose, giving the company the largest floor space of any store in the valley. During the day, many people passed in and out of the store, viewing the new lines of household furnishings. Floral baskets made the main floor and balcony alive with color. Goodwill expressions in the form of flowers came from more than a dozen wholesale furniture houses in Los Angeles and southern California, while many of Mr. Scofield's fellow merchants in Covina were represented in a similar manner. Outstanding among these gifts of flowers were the pieces from the Covina Rotary club, the Covina Lions club, the local post of the American Legion, of which Mr. Scofield is commander, the Covina chamber of commerce, and many other organizations represented through personal friends.

The Rotary club luncheon was served by Hervey Warden of the Palace of Sweets, and was presided over by President Frank H. Wright. As a part of the program, Superintendent C. M. Wood of the California Preparatory school conducted an old-fashioned spelling bee for a few minutes. The speaker was Hunt Cook, national authority on interior decorating.

Following the Rotary luncheon, Mr. Cook gave a visual demonstration of what he termed "a livable, lovable living room." One of the main windows was filled with livingroom furniture arranged in the manner that it never should be, according to Mr. Hunt. While his large audience looked on, Mr. Hunt re-arranged the furniture and the coloring to harmonize, calling upon his audience to note the improved effect.

Aiding in the reception of the guests during the day were Anthony Schornagle, president of the Lions club, Miss Lillian Douglass, president of the Woman's club, and Ben F. Thorpe, representing Rotary.

Swallows Will Attend Reunion at Camarillo

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Swallow will attend a family reunion Sunday on the Conejo ranch, at Camarillo, near Ventura. The day will mark a double celebration, the eighty-eighth birthday of Mrs. Swallow's brother, Mr. Fred Smith, and the sixtieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

This is the second sixtieth wedding anniversary in the family, another sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Legg, having celebrated their anniversary a year or so ago. Mr. and Mrs. Swallow are looking forward to a similar day three years hence. The Smiths were former residents of Covina, having resided on Orange avenue.

Others attending from Covina will be the following nephews and nieces: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swallow of Baldwin Park, Mrs. Walter Starbuck, Mrs. Mary Casad, Mrs. E. E. Hartley, Mrs. Clara Heath, and Mrs. Julia Heath and children.

Mrs. O. C. Willoughby and her house guest, Mrs. Harry Lewis, spent the week-end in Long Beach with Mrs. Lulu Friedman.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McClure have moved from their home on Park street, this city, to Whittier, where Mr. McClure has business interests.

"Leisure Time" Is Subject of Club Address

At the regular meeting of the Woman's club, Monday afternoon, the floral decorations, arranged by the garden section, were in keeping with the Easter season. Three floor baskets of calla lilies occupied the front of the stage, while beautiful bouquets of roses and spring flowers were the centerpieces for the tea tables.

The speaker, Mr. Jeffrey Morgan, delivered a lecture on "Our Leisure Time," which, complete with clever illustrations, brought home a message well worth considering. The extensive use of "gas" and "juice" in modern life was given as the means by which a housewife could care for her home in one-fourth the time that her mother did, and in a better degree of efficiency; the introduction of mechanical labor brought an increased production in five days per week over the old method of six full days. He cited methods of spending leisure time which he could not endorse—the pool room, the automobile, public dance hall, the sidewalk movies—suggesting in their place the habit of reading good literature, more civic clubs and organizations, athletics in the schools for all the pupils, better church plants for recreation, and good music.

Mr. Ralph Nye furnished the musical program, singing two groups of solos, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Estep.

In the business session, reports were given by the following delegates who attended the district convention at Hollywood: Mrs. Clarence Hunter, Mrs. Ella Patten, Mrs. David Kinney, Mrs. H. G. Upham, Mrs. Ralph White, Mrs. William Warren.

A proposed amendment to the by-laws was read before the club at the conclusion of the program. Mrs. S. S. Magan and Mrs. C. F. Fingler presided at the tea tables, assisted by Mrs. W. P. Magan and Mrs. Irven Reynolds.

Pacific Electric System Reduces Passenger Fares

Besides a decrease in the regular fares on the Pacific Electric lines, which are a considerable reduction, as announced by the company this week, the Sunday pass system is bound to be popular, according to D. W. Pontius, general manager of the system.

One-way fares from Covina to Los Angeles, beginning April 20, will be 45 cents instead of sixty cents; round-trip fares eighty cents instead of ninety-eight cents; and sixty-ride commutation books will be $14.90 instead of $13.88, this last being an increase of ten per cent. It is declared that the users of sixty-ride books are only about a third of the travel. Decreases in the one-way and round-trip fares will stimulate travel, it is believed.

A Sunday pass can be obtained that will take one person from as far as Uplands to any point in the system for one dollar, excepting Mount Lowe, which is to be $2.50.

METHODS CHANGE

In the old days, the covered wagon or dobbie
and the surrey furnished the transportation.
Today, fast trains and ships, automobiles and air transport keep pace with the fast moving world. Times and methods change.

Business too has changed. Sales methods of even a decade ago could not compete in the business world of today. Modern salesmen use the telephone to keep in touch with the trade between trips and to sell customers located off the beaten path. Executives can no longer wait days or even hours for a reply to important questions. They rely on the telephone.

Speed, economy and dependability have made this personal means of communication

valuable asset in any business.

1,000,000 Times a Day
People purchase Sunkist fruit

"Some of those Sunkist Oranges, please."

"Add a dozen Sunkist Lemons to that order."

"I'll take six of these Sunkist Grapefruit."

Thirty-six times each second, two thousand times a minute, over one million times each day, housewives express their confidence in Sunkist fruit when shopping in the markets of the nation.

No other perishable product enjoys such prestige. No other name that stands for fresh fruit has been able to penetrate to the mind of the buying public as effectively as "Sunkist."

Such widespread acceptance is a tribute to the cumulative marketing efficiency of the California Fruit Growers Exchange. It is the magical power which last year enabled Exchange growers to dispose of 50,468 carloads of citrus fruit at the highest prices in history. It is the force which for many years has brought greater average profit to Exchange members.

Carefully controlled shipments—
even distribution—constant sales effort—efficient merchandising and advertising methods—the untiring and effective development of new markets—and other services performed by the Exchange, are the industry's best assurance that adequate markets and fair prices can be enjoyed in the future.

But even more could be accomplished—even greater returns could be realized—even larger profits secured
—if every citrus grower in California
were a member of the Exchange.

Competition is an excellent practice to improve the standard of fruit. The Exchange employs it. But competition in selling means lower prices and less profit for all.

Join the Exchange—become part of it with the 11,000 other grower members who desire to see the entire California citrus crop efficiently marketed
through one central growers' organization.

The Exchange is operated by the growers themselves on a non-profit basis. All of its services (including advertising) cost grower members less per box than the sales expense alone
of any other citrus marketing organization.

Talk to the manager of the nearest Exchange association or District Exchange. Or write for further information to California Fruit Growers Exchange, Box 530, Station "C," Los Angeles.

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS...

The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of 11,000 California citrus fruit growers, producing about 75% of the California citrus crop, operated by and for them on a co-operative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for California oranges, lemons and grapefruit, and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all of the Exchange's 201 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges or at the central office in Los Angeles.

Marion Davies in "The Patsy" at Covina Theater

"In Old Kentucky," the thrilling drama of beautiful women and fast horses, will be the film showing at the Covina theater tonight (Friday) and tomorrow. All the scenes were filmed in the famous racing state against a background of Churchill Downs, Latonia, and the famous Blue Farms, near Lexington. James Murray and Helene Costello have the principal romantic roles.

Marion Davies will be the featured star Sunday and Monday in her last screen vehicle, "The Patsy." Miss Davies is said to top everything she has previously done as the whimsical, lovable, ingeniously embarrassed Patsy. These who saw the film on the stage at Hollywood recently can appreciate its opportunities for a hilariously comic entertainment.

A cross section of life—stark and unadorned—is the description that has been given to "The Noose," starring Richard Barthelmess, and coming to the local playhouse next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. It is the story of an unfortunate boy thrown among bad companions and who becomes a rum runner and gangster.

Storage and Flood Control—

Volney H. Craig, well known rancher and property-owner of the San Fernando valley, writing in the Los Angeles Times recently, outlines an interesting phase of the problem of water storage for irrigation and domestic use, and that flood control. He says:

I note in the press that they are talking of the necessity of more city reservoirs. I never could understand why we could not combine flood control reservoirs of the Los Angeles district with aqueduct water storage. The floods of Owens valley come in June and July; during the past ten years they have mostly come in those months and it will be more accentuated in the future, for in the past we were getting only return waters after the farmers of Owens valley had used them for irrigation and the Owens valley farmers, by applying the water for irrigation, greatly lengthened out or evened out the flow peak period. In the future, these waters will come as they came before Owens valley was inhabited and in decided peaks when the snow is melting in June and July. We never have local flood conditions in June and July, and the reservoirs could be emptied out in the late fall before our winter flood period could arrive. Nobody realizes better than I that flood control and storage reservoirs have distinct functions.

The aqueduct enters the San Fernando valley at elevation 1461.23 above sea level; and the crests of the various Los Angeles county flood control dams are as follows: Pacoima, 2025; Tujunga, proposed, 1740; Devil's Gate, 1065; Eaton canyon, proposed, 2510; Big Santa Anita, 1328; Sawpit, 1375; San Gabriel, proposed high dam, 1782.5; Big Dalton, 1690; San Dimas, 1472; Puddingstone, 987; Live Oaks, 1502; Thompson's Creek, 1605.

You will see that the water would flow by gravity into Devil's Gate and Puddingstone; the others would take, in some instances, just a little boost, and all of them not prohibitory pumping, as we have been taught to view it. A competent engineer who is familiar with the situation, has told me that it would take 35 second feet continuous flow to keep Devil's Gate dam full, for the benefit of Pasadena's underground supply.

Of course, I am familiar with the various political units involved, but these difficulties could all be ironed out, even if it necessitated the beheading of some political office holders; for instance, I would be a great deal better pleased to have a new storage dam built in the Tujunga, and used partly by the city and partly by the county flood control; rather than two reservoirs built for double the tax money.

Distributing the Stress—

Another suggestion concerning the building of dams, appearing in "The Times," and coming from an engineer, J. E. Koerber, is as follows:

While it is quite obvious that dams for the assurance of a ready water supply for the city of Los Angeles are a necessity, it is equally as clear that such dams when constructed in the mountainous regions must be on an entirely different plan of safety against the recent St. Francis break.

The general fractious condition of the structures in the California mountainous region is such that when subjected to holding a body of water, a constant percolation goes on through the crevices and fractures in the sides and floor of the canyons, destroying all cementing qualities of the various strata which in a comparatively short period causes the water-logging of the various strata for a considerable distance along the sides and floor of the canyon and destroy any holding ground sufficient for anchorage of, and foundation at the time the dam is constructed.

The breaking of the St. Francis dam demonstrates that for impounding water in the mountainous regions of this section of the state, the floor and sides of the canyon must be sealed against any seepage, with reinforced concrete of probably not less than six inches in thickness, and extended to the maximum intended water level of the reservoir. The consideration of cost of such construction for impounded water at high levels should have no argument, if the loss of life and property is considered, either of which is the first consideration when the building of water dams is considered. The loss of life and property in the recent dam break would build all the necessary dams for a permanent water supply for Los Angeles of the future.

There should be no impounding of such large bodies of water as in the St. Francis instance, unless a series of dams are constructed up the canyon, giving each dam its independent load to carry on a high factor of safety.

HOOVER-FOR-PRESIDENT CLUB TO BE ORGANIZED IN COVINA

Dr. J. D. Reed, W. P. Nye, Grant Chapman, and others interested in the national Republican ticket in the Covina, are making preliminary plans for the formation of a "Hoover-for-President" club in Covina. A call is soon to go out for membership, these men declared yesterday, and a local organization will be formed of the best-known men and women in the city and valley.

The Fight Against Graft—

Every country has its recreant public officers. Graft is not confined to any national boundary. The manner in which a nation keeps such unwholesome conditions near to the minimum is the real test. Most of the great governments of the world have found that enemies from within were the most destructive, and some of the greatest have succumbed to these enemies. The government of the United States has not been spared this battle against grafters in any era, but it has steadily grown greater in material and in moral power.

The period of reconstruction following the war found this nation with a problem concerning recreant officers, and with high courage undertook the duty of correcting the condition, with punishing the offenders, and cleaning the national slate, insofar as was humanly possible. War is hell—not merely on the battlefield and in the camps of the armed forces, but throughout the entire body politic. One of the spawns of hell is graft. Moral slippage takes place during war periods. Return to sanity and responsibilities is ever the task of any government that is emerging out of war.

It is not so remarkable that such graft should have been uncovered, as is the fact that the government has been able to prosecute and convict. This disagreeable task fell largely to President Coolidge and his officers, and as we look back upon the last seven years, it seems that the duty has been performed to a most amazing degree when it is considered that the ones concerned were rich or powerful, strongly entrenched, and capable of involving many in high places, either rightfully, or by inference and by association. Probably the most disagreeable task of reconstruction has been this dogged struggle to punish the men who bored from within while the country was in grave peril. The task is not finished, nor is it considered finished by the government. But there are indications that it is to be finished with reasonable satisfaction to the people.

Covina Hospital Wins Praise of Azusa Patient

By S. D. Stephens in Azusa Herald: While lying here in bed in the Covina hospital, recovering from a minor operation which I recently underwent, it behooves me to inform the public as to just what kind of an institution we have right near us, and the way a patient is taken care of.

I have always held aloof from all hospitals, as I was a patient in two different ones in Baltimore during my twenty years of railroad service for the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, and will say, while those hospitals in Baltimore are of a larger scale and run under an ironclad rule, they cannot even compare to the comfort and homelike environment that surrounds a patient in this wonderful little institution.

This hospital at Covina is operated by Miss Melisse Wittler and Miss Lavina Graham, both of whom are graduate nurses, and while all institutions of this kind have to pay a certain revenue in order to operate, it seems that this is not the object alone in this case, and the way a patient is taken care of by the staff of nurses under the supervision of these two wonderful women.

While it is always a misfortune for any individual, I think, to have to go to a hospital, yet when you receive such service as I have received during my recent stay at Covina hospital, it makes it so much easier to bear and assists in a speedier recovery.

While my case was supervised by Magan brothers, M.D.'s of Covina, there is no restriction as to what doctor handles a case in this, the most homelike hospital in the state of California.

Advertising and Research Bring Exchange Award

A certificate of merit for the most conspicuous work in research and advertising fields during 1926 has been conferred upon the California Fruit Growers Exchange, according to announcement from the American Food Journal and Home Economist, who issue the award.

The jury of award was unanimous in their opinion that from material submitted by various advertisers Sunkist's campaign on oranges and lemons ranked first. The certificate reads, "An award offered to encourage research, popular education, constructive advertising and scientific management in the food industry. For work deemed most comprehensive for excellence of planning and execution among the campaigns for 1926 for products coming under the attention of the jury of award.

Selection for the award was made on the following points:

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Miss Susie A. Gray and Harry F. Beidleman were married at high noon on Wednesday, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Gray. The bride was charmingly attired in a gown of white organdie and carried in her gloved hands a beautiful bouquet of lilacs. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Harcourt W. Peck.

The funeral of Wallace B. Beck, who was drowned on Wednesday of last week in the San Gabriel river, was held today in his former home in La Verne.

Dr. Anderson has sold his residence and lot, corner of Second and College streets, to Mrs. E. F. Longtin for $2,200.

F. A. Smith has sold his store building and 25 feet frontage on Citrus avenue to L. Didier of Puente for $3250.

The Wiggins Brothers of El Monte, with their pack of hounds, came up to Covina on Saturday and in company with Henry Mace, had a day's sport in the hills near Puddingstone falls. During the day they treed and killed twelve wildcats, 8 skunks, and one coyote. The dogs had many a fierce fight, two of them being placed hors de combat.

W. M. Platt of Inglewood advertises for the next ten days, sealed bids on his five acres, two-year-old navel orange grove, which joins the Charter Oak school grounds on the south.

First—The uncovering of facts regarding the chemical composition of products. Helping the commercial division of the food field to appreciate and profit by the work of scientists in the laboratory.

Second—Accomplishments which tend to improve national dietary habits. These include the demonstration of the value of the mixed diet, the establishment of scientifically trained educators as members of the staff, and helping to combat the influence of food fads through distribution of sound and carefully checked publicity material or otherwise.

Third—A section which dealt with constructive advertising and based the report on increased production, lowered overhead and the development of new markets, as well as the strengthening of old ones.

Considered as it was from every angle, the recognition that this award brings is very gratifying to the officials of the California Fruit Growers Exchange in the realization that their research and advertising efforts in connection with Sunkist products has been deemed deserving of first place by the judges.

West Covina Fathers' club will hold its bi-monthly meeting and banquet at the clubhouse, Thursday evening, April 19, at 6:30. Throughout the P. T. A., the club will take over the lecture by Joseph Ewan, "bird expert," on "Birds Worth Knowing." There will be other features on the program, including recitations
of the West Covina harmonica band.
On account of the character of the address the meeting will be made a community supper and include women and children.

Owing to the coming banquet and pressure of school and Scout activities, weekly visits of the Fathers' club to the school are laid aside for the immediate future. The month of May will probably see their continuation.

As these notes go to press West
Covina and Covina grammar are battling in another tennis tournament at Covina park. Girls of the schools are having a tournament the same Thursday afternoon at West Covina's grounds.

West Covina Scout troop enjoyed a visit from Scoutmaster Kain Tuesday evening, accompanied by two of his Scouts. Rev. Kain gave a mixed program, to the delight of a full troop and Councilmen Lang and Neely.

Members of West Covina Scout troop will journey to the court of honor at Puente Friday evening to take their first class badges. The entire group is planning to make the next trip to Camp Huntington.

Patrons and pupils of West Covina
school will regret to learn that they are to lose Mrs. Coulson, who after two years of effective teaching in room 2, is to remove to Oceanside, near where she may continue her teaching.

The Rattlesnake patrol has postponed its party at the Scoutmaster's home until a less busy week.

Citrus Fertilizers

Under Discussion

Large economic savings will result from buying organic fertilizers
for citrus groves at the time of year when prices are lowest, according to Dr. L. D. Batchelor of the Citrus Experiment Station, Riverside. This information was given to approximately 100 citrus growers of Los Angeles county on the occasion of an inspection trip to the station.

The plan, as Dr. Batchelor outlined it, for purchase of organic matter
during July and August, would save the growers a great deal of money.
Manures are driest during the summer; the supply is generally in excess of demand, due to the majority of people not wishing to take delivery, and as a result prices are somewhat lower. More important than these considerations, however, is the fact that nitrate tests are higher,
due to the lack of water in the total mass. This practice will not result in loss of nitrates unless overhead
or flooding irrigation is practiced.
Almost twice as much nitrogen can be purchased for the same money
then, as compared to purchase in October and November.

Constipation Swoops Down Upon You
and, before you know it, has you in its grip. It is all the more dangerous because it is so harmless. But it works insidiously, slowly but surely laying the foundation for serious diseases. The usual cathartics aggravate the condition.
For a while they seem to help, but soon
you find yourself worse off than before you took them.

PANCOLATE

is not an ordinary laxative. It is far more than a physic. It reaches the cause, and while it has a pleasant laxative effect from the start, eventually it overcomes the most stubborn cases.

Start taking Pancolate today. Your local druggist has it in boxes of 12 tablets for 25c or in bottles of 60 for $1.00.

Salesmanship

After drinking several glasses of cut-priced lemonade, a man approached the lad in charge of the stand and addressed him:

"Young man, how can you expect to sell your lemonade at five cents,
when you have a competitor offering the finest lemonade I ever drank at two cents?"

"Well, mister," answered the boy,
"we're in partnership. The cat fell in his bowl an hour ago, and we decided to get rid of his lemonade quick before the news spread."

ECONOMY

Getting right down to dollars and cents—when economy goes beyond initial price and makes itself felt in operating and maintenance costs throughout a long truck life,
it points the sure road to profits.

Low operating costs, dependability,
power and speed stand out boldly
in the experiences of the hundreds of thousands of operators of Graham Brothers Trucks and Commercial Cars . . . And the economy becomes most complete and convincing when the extremely low initial prices are noted.

Leave It to the Irish

An Irishman applied for a job at the gas plant.
"What can you do?" asked the foreman.
"Almost anything," answered the applicant.
"Well," said the foreman, "you seem to be all right. Could you wheel out a barrow of smoke?"
"Sure; fill up up for me."

Fish Hatchery in San Gabriel Canyon Planned

The first step in establishing a fish hatchery in the San Gabriel canyon will be taken in a few days by the chamber of commerce of Azusa, sponsor of the movement to select a suitable site for the proposed plant, it was announced on Tuesday by S. E. Skidmore, secretary of the chamber.

That the state fish and game commission has endorsed two hatcheries for southern California was the information received by Skidmore from George Clarkson, state fish and game commissioner. Selecting of the site is the first preliminary step toward establishing one of the hatcheries there, Skidmore said.

A committee of chamber of commerce men, appointed to make a survey of the project, accompanied by C. L. Nickles, president of the San Gabriel River chapter, Isaac Walton league; Leo Burner, secretary of the league, and Mr. Skidmore, will make a trip in the canyon this week and will definitely decide on a location for the hatchery, it was said.

On the chamber committee are Roger Dalton, chairman; Dr. W. G. Wheatley and C. H. Howard.

Years ago the San Gabriel river was the pride of the southland for fishing, and it is the object of the local chamber of commerce to re-

San Diego to Hear Ellen Beach Yaw

The announcement that Ellen Beach Yaw, California's celebrated coloratura singer, will appear in concert Tuesday evening, April 17, at the Spreckels theater in San Diego, is eliciting much interest in the southern city.

The recital will mark Madame Yaw's first appearance in San Diego since 1915, when she was a favorite soloist at the Panama-California exposition, singing on numerous occasions at the out-of-door pavilion. The coloratura is an ardent enthusiast of outdoor singing, and claims that it is more natural to sing in the open air than anywhere else. She bases her contention on the fact that the birds sing in the great out-of-doors.

Madame Yaw takes a keen delight in searching for unusual compositions of significance and worth, and presenting these to the concert-going public. Two numbers which she will sing with flute obbligato, and which will be featured on her San Diego program, are "Song of the Nightingale," from Massé's opera, "The Marriage of Jeannette," and the difficult Schubert composition, "The Shepherd On the Rocks."
